The 32nd Scand-LAS Symposium

18th. -21st. April 2002

The Symposium will be held at the Clarion Oslo Airport Hotel, Gardermoen Airport. By choosing this central venue we hope to attract a large number of scientists and technicians who would not normally visit a laboratory animal meeting.

Possibilities for day registration will be given.

There is easy access from the city centre using the Airport Express Train (19 minutes).

Our aim is to make the principles of laboratory animal science and welfare visible for the scientific community, to provide an interface for discussion and to encourage future cooperation.

There will be parallel sessions in English and Scandinavian:

Uniting Science and the Three R's

Main topics:

- Guidelines for the refinement of protocols and papers
- The challenges of non-traditional research animals
- The latest sources of information on the three R's
- Raising standards in animal facilities
